

SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY

Social Science Integrated Teacher Education Program

The Social Science Integrated Teacher Education Program (ITEP) is a new 4-year combined bachelor and credential option for students who plan to teach history, government, geography, or economics in middle or high school.

Get Your Teaching Credential in 4 Years Instead of 5!

How the program works

- Students enroll as undergraduates.
- Students need to complete their lower-division coursework with a minimum GPA of 2.67.
- Students can begin their student teaching once they have completed 80% of their subject matter coursework.
- The total number of units required for the major (both undergraduate degree and credential) is 134.
- Completing this degree in four years often requires taking some courses over summer.

HOW TO APPLY TO THE SOCIAL SCIENCE ITEP:

- High school seniors and community college students can apply to the ITEP program through the regular SDSU admissions process.
- Declare "Social Science Integrated Teaching Education Program" as your major.

If you have any questions, please visit our website (<https://socialscience.sdsu.edu>) or contact Dr. Brian Adams, the social science advisor, at socsciad@sdsu.edu.